

Bicknell, Peter 1907 - 1995

Peter Bicknell was born in Rowland Gills, Co. Durham, England on 16 June 1907 and from 1926 studied architecture at Jesus College, Cambridge. After graduating he commenced independent practice as an architect and from 1935 was in partnership with fellow Cambridge graduate Henry Castree Hughes (1893-1976) as H. C. Hughes and Peter Bicknell (Hughes & Bicknell) in Cambridge.

Bicknell also taught architecture and art history at the University of Cambridge and was a fellow of Downing College, Cambridge.

Bicknell was elected an Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects (ARIBA) in 1932.

A child's nursery designed by Bicknell featured in the 'Britain Can Make It' exhibition at the Victoria & Albert Museum, London, in 1946.

Bicknell retired from teaching in 1981 and soon after was appointed Director of the Fitzwilliam Museum in Cambridge. During his tenure he organised a number of significant exhibitions. notable among which was 'Beauty, Horror and Immensity – Picturesque Landscape in Britain 1750–1850' (1981) for which he wrote the catalogue.

Like his father, Raymond Bicknell (1875-1927), Peter Bicknell was a well-respected amateur mountaineer and a member of the Alpine Club. From 1951 to 1954 he was President of the Climbers' Club.

He died in Avignon, France on 31 May 1995
