

Braddell & Deane c. 1912 - ?

Darcy Braddell & Humphry Deane [also known as Braddell & Deane, and as Deane & Braddell] was an architectural partnership formed in London, England in c.1912 by Thomas Arthur Darcy Braddell (1884-1970) and Humphry Deane (1883-1955). By the late 1930s a third partner had joined the practice and the firm had been renamed Braddell, Deane & Bird. The address of the practice's office was given as 13 Old Quebec Road, London in 1914 and 1926; and Victor House, Portman Square, London in 1930 and 1939

Worked in

UK

Bibliography

‘A House in Middlesex Designed by Darcy Braddell and Humphry Deane’. Country Life 7 April 1934 pp.352-355

Braddell, Darcy. ‘The Future of English Domestic Architecture IV. The Town House’. Braddell, Darcy. ‘The Future of English Domestic Architecture IV. The Town House’

Links

- Dictionary of Scottish Architects 1660-1980

http://www.scottisharchitects.org.uk/architect_full.php?id=100234

- UK Modern House http://www.ukmoho.co.uk/html/architect/Braddell_Deane.html

- Historic England - details of 15 architectural projects by Darcy Braddell

<https://historicengland.org.uk/sitesearch?searchType=site&search=Darcy%20Braddell&se>

- RIBA

<https://www.ribapix.com/search?adv=false&cid=0&mid=0&vid=0&q=deane%20braddell&>

- Hampshire Gardens Trust <http://research.hgt.org.uk/item/st-edwards-school/>