

Lanchester, Stewart & Rickards 1896 - 1904

Lanchester, Stewart & Rickards was an architectural partnership formed in London, England in 1896 by Henry Vaughan Lanchester (1863-1953), Edwin Alfred Rickards (1872-1920), and James S. Stewart (1866-1904). Following the death of Stewart in 1904 the firm was renamed Lanchester & Rickards

Worked in

UK

Works

Cardiff City Hall and Law Courts (1897); Deptford Town Hall, south London (1903).

Links

- Dictionary of Scottish Architects 1660-1980

http://www.scottisharchitects.org.uk/architect_full.php?id=201940

- Alan Powers. Lanchester & Rickards. Oxford Grove Art online [subscription service]

<https://www.oxfordartonline.com/groveart/view/10.1093/gao/9781884446054.001.0001/oa-9781884446054-e-7000048981?rskey=XVzjeV>

- Historic England - Third Church of Christ Scientist, Curzon Street, City of Westminster, London <https://historicengland.org.uk/listing/the-list/list-entry/1066941>

- Historic England - College of Art, Anlaby Street, Kingston Upon Hull <https://historicengland.org.uk/services-skills/education/educational-images/former-college-of-art-anlaby-street-8663>

- Historic England - Northern Academy of Performing Arts, Kingston upon Hull <https://historicengland.org.uk/listing/the-list/list-entry/1197653>