

Welch, Herbert Arthur 1884 - 1953

Herbert Arthur Welch was born in Seaton, Devon in 1884 and was articled to Thomas Farrell in Sherborne, Dorset from 1899 to 1903. He then moved to London where he worked as assistant to John Robert Moore Smith (1856-1945) from 1903 to 1905 and in the Architects' Department of the London & Northwestern Railway in 1905-06. He also studied at University College, London from 1905 to 1907 and attended classes at the Architectural Association Schools in London. He qualified as an architect in 1910.

In 1908 he was engaged by Parker & Unwin to work on the development of Hampstead Garden Suburb, where he designed the residences on Wordsworth Walk and Coleridge Walk, and several other houses. He was subsequently in independent practice in London and was in partnership with Francis James Watson (1880-1953) in c.1910; with Henry Clifford Hollis (1883-1946) as Welch & Hollis from c.1913 to 1928; and with Felix James Lander (1897-1960) and Nugent Francis Cachemaille-Day (1896-1976) from 1928 as Welch, Cachemaille-Day & Lander. In collaboration with Frederick Etchells (1887-1953), the partnership designed the much-admired Crawford's Advertising office building at 233 High Holborn, London in 1930. The partnership was dissolved in 1935 when Cachemaille-Day left to set up his own practice and Lander and Welch continued as Herbert A. Welch & Felix J. Lander.

Welch was elected an Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects (ARIBA) in 1911 and a Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects (FRIBA) in 1924. He was awarded the London Architecture Medal in 1933. He died in North Walsham, Norfolk, Norfolk on 13 February 1953.
