Webb, Aston 1849 - 1930

Aston Webb [also known as Sir Aston Webb] was born in Clapham, Surrey, England on 22 May 1849 and was the son of Edward Webb (1805-1854), a painter. He trained as an architect with Robert Richardson Banks (1812?-1872) and Charles Barry junior (1823-1900) from 1866 to 1871. He also attended classes at the Architectural Association in London. In 1871-72 he travelled on the Continent. In 1873 he was a Pugin Student. He commenced independent practice in London in 1874.

Over a period of twenty-five years he frequently collaborated on projects with Edward Ingress Bell (1837–1914) although they were never in partnership. Towards the end of his career he was also in partnership with his son, Maurice Everett Webb, (1880-1939) as Sir Aston Webb & Son [also known as. Webb & Webb, and as Sir Aston Webb & Maurice E. Webb]

Webb was elected an Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects (ARIBA) in 1874 and a Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects (FRIBA) in 1883. He was also elected an Associate of the Royal Academy (ARA) in 1884 and a Royal Academician (RA) in 1903. He was President of the Architectural Association in 1881-82, President of the Royal Institute of British Architects from 1902 to 1904, and President the Royal Academy from 1919 to 1924. He was awarded the RIBA Royal Gold Medal in 1905, and the Inaugural Gold Medal of the American Institute of Architects in 1907 and was knighted in 1904.

Webb died at his home in Worthing, Sussex on 21 August 1930.
