

Lewis, John Norman c. 1886 - 1946

John Norman Lewis was born in Waterloo, Lancashire, England in c.1886. He practised as an architect in Liverpool in the early years of the twentieth century.

Drawings and plans of a house designed by him are illustrated in Designs for One Hundred Ideal £1,000 Houses. Being copies of the hundred best designs entered in the 1912 Daily Mail Architects' Competition (1912 p.69).

His address was given as 22, Gt. Georges Road, Waterloo, Liverpool in 1911 and 1912. He died at the Cottage Hospital in Wallasey on 25 July 1946

Worked in
UK