

Twentyman, Alfred Richard 1903 - 1979

Alfred Richard Twentyman was born at Bilbrook Manor House, his family home in Tettenhall, Staffordshire, England on 13 September 1903. After training as an engineer at the University of Cambridge he studied at the Architectural Association Schools in London. He was elected an Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects (ARIBA) in 1931 and a Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects (FRIBA) in 1939.

He was elected an Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects (ARIBA) in 1931 and in 1932 or 1933 he formed the architectural partnership Lavender & Twentyman with Ernest Clifford Lavender (1890-1942). The practice had an office at Waterloo Chambers, Waterloo Road, Wolverhampton, Staffordshire.

Following Lavender's death in 1942, Twentyman continued to run the practice, retaining the original name of the firm. By the early 1950s a third partner, Charles Geoffrey Percy (1914-1963) had joined the firm which was renamed Lavender, Twentyman & Percy. It later became Twentyman, Percy & Partners.

In addition to his work as an architect, Twentyman was also a painter, although he is not known to have exhibited. A painting by him entitled Pigeon Loft, Sedgely is in the permanent collection of Wolverhampton Art Gallery.

His address was given as Waterloo Chambers Waterloo Road, Wolverhampton in 1932 and 1950; and Bilbrook Manor House, Codsall, Staffordshire in 1939. He died in Bridgnorth, Shropshire on 13 December 1979.
