

Booth & Ledebøer

Booth & Ledebøer was an architectural firm founded by David Booth (1908-1962) and Judith Ledebøer (1901-1990) in Britain in the late 1940s. The architect John Albert Pinckheard (1911-1977) joined the firm as a partner in the 1950s and the name of the practice was changed to Booth Ledebøer & Pinckheard.

In addition to their work as architects, Booth & Ledebøer also designed furniture including a mahogany sideboard for Gordon Russell Ltd. in 1951. Booth Ledebøer & Pinckheard ceased with the death of Booth in 1962.
