

Martin, William Hippisley 1828 - 1900

William Hippisley Martin [also known as William Martin] was born in Worcester, Worcestershire, England on 8 September 1828. By the late 1830s he had moved with his family to Birmingham. Nothing is known about his training or the early years of his career apart from the fact that he was associated with the Birmingham architect Thomson Plevins (1826-1897) and that for a period he was in partnership with D. R. Hill.

In 1864, with John Henry Chamberlain (1831-1883), he formed the architectural partnership Martin & Chamberlain in Birmingham. Following the death of Chamberlain in 1883, Martin's son Frederick William Martin (1859-1917) became a partner in the practice. His younger brother, Herbert Martin (1862-1946) later also joined the firm. The practice retained the title Martin & Chamberlain until 1901 when it was renamed Martin & Martin.

William Hippisley Martin died in Gravelly Hill, Birmingham on 18 July 1900.
