

Gass, John Bradshaw 1855 - 1939

John Bradshaw Gass was born in Annan, Dumfriesshire, Scotland [1] on 18 June 1855. He was articled to his uncle, Jonas James Bradshaw (1837-1912), in Bolton, Lancashire from 1871 to 1876 and remained with him as his managing assistant until 1878. He then worked as an assistant to Ernest George (1839-1922) and Harold Ainsworth Peto (1854-1933) in 1879-80. He also attended Manchester University and the Royal Academy Schools in London. In 1885 he was awarded the Godwin & Wimperis Bursary.

Gass passed the Royal Institute of British Architects Voluntary Examination in 1880 and in January 1881 commenced practice as an architect in partnership with Bradshaw as Bradshaw & Gass. In 1902 Arthur John Hope (1875-1960) joined the partnership which was renamed Bradshaw, Gass & Hope. After the death of Bradshaw in 1912 the partnership was renamed Bradshaw Gass & Hope [no comma]. The practice continued following the deaths of its original partners and eventually closed in 2017.

Gass was elected an Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects (ARIBA) in 1881 and a Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects (FRIBA) in 1889. He was President of the Manchester Society of Architects.

In addition to his work as an architect, Gass was also a watercolour painter and between 1880 and 1910 exhibited at the Royal Academy in London. He died in Horwich, Lancashire on 3 July 1939.

A biographical file on John Bradshaw Gass is available at the Enquiry Desk, Royal Institute of British Architects Library, London

[1] or Bolton, Lancashire, England. According to the Dictionary of Scottish Architects his place of birth was Annan, and that he moved to Bolton as a child, however, ancestry.com gives his place of birth as Bolton
