

Miller, James 1860 - 1947

James Miller was born in Auchtergaven, Perthshire, Scotland in 1860. From 1877 onwards he was articled to Andrew Heiton (1823-1894) of Messrs A. & A. Heiton in Perth. After working as an assistant to Hippolyte Jean Blanc (1844-1917) in Edinburgh, he was employed as an assistant in the Architects' Department of the Caledonian Railway Co., first in Perth and then in Edinburgh (1888-92). In 1892 Miller established his own independent architectural practice in Glasgow. He was elected a Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects (FRIBA) in 1902. In 1933 he formed a partnership with his son, George James Miller (c.1902-1940) as James Miller & Son.

Between 1887 and 1938 Miller exhibited at the Royal Scottish Academy in Edinburgh, the Glasgow Institute of the Fine Arts and at the Royal Academy in London. He was elected an Associate of the Royal Scottish Academy (ARSA) in 1906 and a full member of the of the Academy (RSA) in 1931. Miller died in Randolphfield, Scotland, on 28 November 1947
