

Scott, William Gilbee 1857 - 1930

William Gilbee Scott was born in Hackney, London, England on 14 October 1857. He was articled to Mathew Edward Habershon (1826-1900) and Edgar Philip Loftus Brock (1833-1895) from 1872 to 1877 and remained with them for a further year as their assistant. He also attended classes at the Architectural Association Schools in London and at the South Kensington Museum. From 1878 to 1882 he was employed as an assistant to Ewan Christian (1814-1895). In 1882 he commenced independent practice as an architect in London. He was at one time in partnership with his son, Bernard Wardlaw Habershon Scott (1888-1978).

Scott was elected an Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects (ARIBA) in 1881, and a Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects (FRIBA) in 1891. He was awarded the RIBA Silver Medal in 1878 for measured drawings of Lavenham Church, Suffolk.

His address was given as 98 Eleanor Road, Hackney, London in 1881; 102 Guilford Street, Russell Square, London in 1882; Harden House, Crescent Road, Enfield, London in 1890; 25 Bedford Row, Enfield, London in 1890 and 1930; 125 Rodenhurst Road, Clapham Park, London in 1914; and 30 Mount Nod Road, Streatham, Surrey in 1930. He died at 90 Kings Road, Harrogate, Yorkshire on 31 August 1930
