

Chatterton & Couch c. 1907 - c. 1909

Chatterton & Couch was an architectural firm founded in London, England by Frederick Chatterton (1872-1934) and William Edward Couch (1877-1942) in London, England in c.1907. It is not known when the partnership was dissolved. It was possibly short-lived as Chatterton was appointed a lecturer at the Egyptian Government School of Engineering in Cairo in 1909.
