

Doherty, William James 1887 - 1951

William James Doherty was born in 1887, probably in Londonderry [Derry], Ireland and was articled to Edward J. Toye (1857-1932) in Londonderry [Derry]. He also attended the Architectural Association of Ireland classes in Dublin. After working as an assistant to William Henry Byrne & Sons in Dublin for two years, he commenced independent practice as an architect in Londonderry [Derry] in 1914. In c.1926 he was appointed engineer to the County Board of Health of Co. Donegal. In 1948 he formed a partnership with Bernard Francis Rhatigan (1916-?) of Sligo. Doherty was elected an associate member of the Royal Society of Ulster Architects in 1914. Member of the Royal Institute of Architects in Ireland (MRIAI) in 1915. He died in April 1951.
